

The Smidget Game

Introduce the Game to Your Guests:

THIS IS A GAME OF CHOICE

Politely tell them that they don't have to play but they'll want to because its fun!

Object of the Game -

To have lots of fun, give the guests a chance to earn free gifts & help the hostess earn datings towards her FREE Tupperware!

Rules of the Game -

Inside each smidget is a gift

Half of these are just gifts; the other half are a gift and a party. (Be Honest)

If they play, they may keep the smidget and the gift, but if its 'me for a party' they need to date and hold a party.

If anyone says they can't have a party, try to overcome their objection by suggesting all the different types of parties you can do.

If they still say that they cannot, politely explain that they should NOT play the game.

Be very clear, that if the WORST thing they could do is have a party, they DO NOT want to play! Because if they draw a party, you are coming to their house...laugh!

Start with the person who already said they would like to have a party, and ask them what they would like to do, open their smidget and receive a guaranteed free gift, or pass, and give up smidgets, free gifts, and the once in a lifetime opportunity to have a party with you!!
