SHIPPING STATUS: We remain committed to improving the shipping timeframes that we know, throughout 2020, made it more difficult than it should be to offer Tupperware® solutions to your Hosts and customers. We're confident that, in the coming weeks, this timeframe will continue to improve. As a result of the additional distribution points, split shipments can occur and some items may arrive at different times. A few specific updates:

- We are currently averaging closer to 2 weeks for new orders, and we're confident it will continue to improve.
- As for past orders, we're currently shipping orders placed as far back as August 2, with the exception of items that are on backorder. Backordered products will ship as inventory becomes available.
- Kits are being shipped out within 3 business days.
