SUMMER 2022

✦ Tupperware
The Vintage Collection

RESET, RELAX
AND RECONNECT.

This summer, we hope you take the time to refocus on your well-being. It's safe to say the last couple of years have brought added stress. Whether that means visiting with loved ones or adding a walk into your routine, use Mother Nature's new season to reconnect with yourself.

Sometimes, it's important to reset and recharge – and many of us like to do that in the comfort and security of our homes. It's why Tupperware® remains committed to creating and providing sustainably-minded and innovative products, to not only encourage the reduction of single-use waste, but gives you peace of mind at home (or, on-the-go) too.

Our products have truly stood the test of time (hello, 76 years of Tupperware!), and ultimately, can save you time, space, money, food and energy.

WHY TUPPERWARE® BRAND

Embrace the season's changes. Warmer temperatures, outdoor adventures and plenty of fun and relaxation ahead with family, friends, your community – or even yourself!

Reconnect in new, wonderful ways

With Tupperware®, you do things the way you want, with a brand you can trust.

“I joined Tupperware around the time when being in person was not as available to many people, so a digital business is all I’ve ever known. One benefit that I believe makes this digital business so easy is the amazing training and tools available through Tupperware that assist me in making my business a success. Going digital also gives me the opportunity to party with people from all over the United States and offers me the flexibility to keep my “always on the go” lifestyle.

April Greene
Director
Brooklyn Center, MN

"Now more than ever, the planet needs our help, and our renewed commitment to the National Park Foundation helps preserve some of America's most treasured spaces. When approached to continue our partnership, it was not even a question – not only is Tupperware further elevating our leadership in environmental stewardship, we are tangibly supporting conservation, preservation, and sustainability, which are all critical for the national park experience.

For more than 75 years, Tupperware has been synonymous with minimizing waste, from reusable food containers to keeping vegetables and fruits fresher longer, with innovative, environmentally-friendly and reusable products, and we're pleased to build on our brand's heritage and the impact of this partnership to continue efforts to educate consumers and prevent waste before it begins."
