Setting Up A Party

1. Click on “create a party”

The screenshot shows the Tupperware website interface. At the top, the Tupperware logo is centered. To the right, there is a language selector set to 'English' and a user greeting 'Welcome TINA OSCAR!' with a profile picture and the title 'BUSINESS LEADER'. Below the header, a navigation bar contains four buttons: 'BUSINESS DASHBOARD', 'CREATE A PARTY', 'MANAGE PARTIES', and 'PLACE ORDER'. A red arrow points directly to the 'CREATE A PARTY' button. Below the navigation bar, a message states: 'Don't miss out on your commission! Your unique email address in MyOffice must match the email used to set up your TuppCard by PayQuicker account! In order to be paid, complete your profile by adding an email address. Your email address must be private and unique to only you.' Below this message is a large light blue banner for 'TuppNow' with the text 'Visit TuppNow to find training, product knowledge, news, and all things Tupperware.' On the left side of the banner, there are links: 'TuppNews →', 'Knowledge Center →', 'Catalogs, Brochures & Short-term Offers →', 'Party Perks →', 'Getting Started →', and 'Customer Care →'. On the right side of the banner, there is a small text box that says 'If it's a repeat host, type name in the box and it will populate. If it's a new host, click on "new host" and enter the information.'

Setting Up A Party

10. Click on
“manage invitations”

The screenshot shows the Tupperware Party Management interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with the Tupperware logo and a welcome message for Tina Oscar, Business Leader. Below the navigation bar, there are four main sections: Party Details (Betty Boop), Manage Invitations (with a sub-link for Invitees), Party Orders (Orders | Total), and Review & Submit (0 Payments). A red arrow points from the text '10. Click on “manage invitations”' to the 'Manage Invitations' section. Below the navigation bar, the 'Manage Invitations' section is active, showing a reference number (4101616020) and a description: 'Add Invitees, send invites and reminders and see who is attending.' There are four buttons: 'Add Guest', 'Send All Pending Invites', 'Send All Reminders', and 'Copy Party Link'. A red arrow points from the text '11. You can click on “copy party link” to share with your host...' to the 'Copy Party Link' button. To the right of the buttons, there is a table titled 'Invitation stats' showing the number of guests in each status.

Invitation stats
Not Invited	0
No Reply	0
Declined	0
Attending	0

11. You can click on “copy party link” to share with your host. She can then share with customers so they can shop. Another option is to just give your website. Customers can select their host when placing an order

Ordering A Party

12. Working left to right,
click on “party orders”

The screenshot shows the Tupperware Party Orders interface. At the top, the Tupperware logo is centered. To the right, a welcome message for Tina Oscar, Business Leader, is displayed. Below the logo, there are four main navigation tabs: Party Details (Betty Boop), Manage Invitations (-- Invitees), Party Orders (highlighted with a red arrow and the text '12. Working left to right, click on “party orders”'), and Review & Submit (0 Payments). The Party Orders tab is active, showing a reference number 4101616020 and the title 'Party Orders'. Below the title, a description states: 'Manage guest invitations, guest information, orders, payments, shipping and add new bookings—all in one place.' On the right side of the Party Orders section, there is an 'Orders stats' table:

Orders stats
Total Bookings	0
Total Carts	2
Total eOrders	0
Total Party Sales	$0.00

Below the stats, there are two buttons: 'CARD VIEW' and 'LIST VIEW'. The main content area displays three cards. The first card is a large grey box with a blue icon of two people and an 'Add Guest' button. The second card is for Tina Oscar, featuring a blue gear icon (labeled 'The “head” icon, indicates you, the consultant') and a 'View Cart' button. The third card is for Betty Boop, featuring a blue house icon (labeled 'The “house” icon, indicates your host') and a 'View Cart' button. Both guest cards show a status of '$0.00' and '0 Products'.

Ordering A Party

The screenshot shows the Tupperware Party Orders dashboard. At the top, there's a navigation bar with the Tupperware logo, a welcome message for Tina Oscar, and several tabs: Party Details (Betty Boop), Manage Invitations (-- Invitees), Party Orders (selected, showing -- Orders | $0.00 Total), and Review & Submit (0 Payments). Below the navigation bar, the main content area is titled 'Party Orders' with a reference number 4101616020. A sub-header reads 'Manage guest invitations, guest information, orders, payments, shipping and add new bookings—all in one place.' On the right, there's an 'Orders stats' table:

Orders stats
Total Bookings	0
Total Carts	2
Total eOrders	0
Total Party Sales	$0.00

Below the stats, there are two buttons: 'CARD VIEW' and 'LIST VIEW'. The main content area displays a list of guests. The first guest is Tina Oscar, with a status of '$0.00' and '0 Products'. An 'Add Guest' button is visible below the guest list. A modal window titled 'Add Guest' is open, showing a search bar with the placeholder 'Search by name or email' and a magnifying glass icon. Below the search bar is a '+ Create New Guest' button. At the bottom of the modal, it says 'No Results'. An arrow points from the 'Add Guest' button on the main page to the modal. Another arrow points from the search bar in the modal to the text '14. If it's a repeat customer, click on "search". If it's a new customer click on "create new guest"'. A third arrow points from the text '13. Click on "add guest"' to the 'Add Guest' button on the main page.

13. Click on “add guest”

14. If it's a repeat customer, click on “search”. If it's a new customer click on “create new guest”

Benefits of partying

- Host invites guests, which introduces you to new customers
- Host works to reach out to those that couldn't attend to get outside sales to reach host goal
- One party becomes two more, when host has bookings for the special host offer(s)
- You can generate $500-$1500 in sales in a short period of time, vs selling one bowl set at a time
